CONVENTION NAMES OUTSTANDING MEN TO STAND IN CITY

Herbert Anscomb, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, Bruce A. McKelvie and Fred A. Willis Nominated by Enthusiastic Convention to Carry Conservative Banner in Victoria

VICTORIA Conservatives picked an outstanding slate of candidates to contest four seats in this riding last evening when they selected Herbert Anscomb, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter, Bruce A. McKelvie and Frederick A. Willis to carry the party's colors in the provincial election. The choice came after a keen contest among eight nominees and through four ballots, and was made unanimous by a cheering throng of 255 delegates and 400 supporters at an open convention in the Chamber of Commerce. Major R. D. Harvey presided over an enthusiastic convention.

Messrs. Anscomb, Hunter and McKelvie were selected on the first ballot, each receiving more than half of the 255 ballots cast. Hugh Allan, William White and E. W. Maynard withdrew after two successive ballots failed to develop a fourth nominee with a clear plurality. W. C. Moreby, K.C., and Frederick A. Willis were grouped on a fourth and final ballot. Mr. Willis receiving the nomination after a close contest. Mr. Moreby moved the nominations of the four named be made unanimous, and this action was taken by the convention.

Nominated by Capt. W. E. Tapley, Herbert Anscomb, former member in the Eighteenth Legislature for the city, spoke briefly.

CANDIDATES SPEAK
"When you look at the colossal extravagance and complete disregard for people's rights shown by the present administration, there is not the slightest doubt that the people are fully aroused and are going to turn them out. In spite of the fact that the Government has $40,000,000 to spend this year, we are going to smash that machine," Mr. Anscomb declared.

Nominated by Hubert Lethaby, Alderman Dr. J. D. Hunter recalled his close association with city affairs, and pointed to the serious problem still facing all municipalities.

"Of two planks in the Liberal platform, 'work and wages' and 'aid to the municipalities,' neither has been implemented. I know what the municipalities have had to put up with. I can say that I have no extravagant promises to make, but that I shall offer the very best service of which I am capable on behalf of the people of British Columbia."

MISUNDERSTOOD SAYS PREMIER

Yukon Proposals Only Tentative, Not Electioneering, Government States

Misconceptions had occurred with respect to the Government's announcement as to amalgamation of British Columbia and the Yukon, Premier Pattullo declared yesterday. In a prepared statement, he said:

"There seems to be a misconception concerning proposals to extend the boundaries of British Columbia to include the Yukon Territory, which I would like to clarify. There is no need for any apprehension and the public may be assured that there is not the slightest intention of placing additional burdens upon the people of British Columbia."

A COINCIDENCE
"There is no desire to foist the proposal either upon the Yukon or British Columbia. The sole desire is to benefit British Columbia, the Yukon, and the Dominion as a whole. It is a coincidence that the tentative proposals were concluded during the time of a general election, and I thought it only fair that the public should at once be taken into confidence."

"The fullest consideration will be given to all details before the proposal is submitted to the Legislature. This will obviously take some little time, so that there will be plenty of opportunity for such representations as anyone may choose to make; and I see no reason why any difficulties which may arise cannot be ironed out to the satisfaction of all concerned."

"I sincerely trust that the public will view the matter in all its broad implications, rather than from any partisan aspect," Premier Pattullo stated.

Japanese Premier Defeated at Polls Refuses to Resign

Government Overwhelmed in Election—Hayashi Denies Any Intention of Dissolving Newly-Elected Diet or Revising Election Laws—Bitterly Attacked by Opposition Leaders

TOKIO, May 3 (AP).—Premier Senjuro Hayashi, refusing to resign and reported seeking a compromise with political parties that overwhelmed his government at the polls, declared tonight he did not intend to dissolve the newly-elected diet. He made this pledge to the Privy Council and asserted also the Government has no intention of revising election laws through an Imperial ordinance.

FIFTY MEN FROM CAMPS ARRESTED

Scores Charged With Vagrancy and Begging—Vancouver No Playground for Unemployed

VANCOUVER, May 3 (AP).—Fifty former British Columbia Government forestry camp workers were held in city jail cells tonight on charges of vagrancy and begging as authorities moved to prevent the city from becoming a "summer playground for unemployed."

The fifty arrested men, believed to be part of a contingent which arrived in Vancouver recently from Vancouver Island camps were closed, were arrested today after being warned earlier not to solicit funds on the streets.

While Vancouver refuses to assume responsibility for the men, Mayor Miller said Hon. G. S. Pearson, Provincial Minister of Labor, has promised a number of the men who have no charges against them may be reinstated in the forestry camps if accommodation is available.

Appeals for Support Of Other Parties to Help Oust Liberals

Dr. Frank Patterson Says Many C.C.F. and Constructive Followers Lining Up With Conservatives in Drive to Defeat Government

NEW DENVER, B.C., May 3 (AP).—Dr. Frank Patterson, provincial Conservative leader, addressing the Kaslo-Slocan nominating convention of the party, tonight appealed to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and the British Columbia Constructives to align themselves with Conservatives in the election campaign.

Captain James Fitzsimmons, member of the Provincial Legislature from 1928 to 1933, was named standard-bearer.

"Many C.C.F. and Constructive followers are now lining up with the Conservatives," Dr. Patterson declared. "Not because they have

The Premier, supported by the army, conferred with his cabinet prior to an audience with Emperor Hirohito.

His plans were said to include either compromise or combat with the political parties. The Opposition parties won some 400 of the 466 parliamentary seats in the general election, called when the Diet was dissolved after long disputes between the Government and its opponents.

VIGOROUSLY ATTACKED
Vigorous attacks on Hayashi for his refusal to leave office continued. Masazumi Ando, secretary-general of the strong Seiyukai party, called the Premier a traitor to constitutional Government. He demanded the cabinet resign immediately in the face of what he termed fair and impartial elections.

Political authorities predicted a period of internal tension and it was believed the Premier could stay in office only on a plea that a national emergency existed, making a delay in new elections advisable.

CADBOROSAURUS SIGHTED AGAIN

H. Moonen and George Barker Witness Sea Serpent Off Hollywood Crescent

Caddy has returned... After an absence from local waters for some time, Victoria's famous sea serpent Cadborosaurus was sighted early Sunday morning off Hollywood Crescent by H. Moonen, 1308 Douglas Street, accompanied by his two sons, and George Barker, Alvine Apartments.

According to Mr. Moonen, Caddy appeared to be about 150 feet from land and was swimming in the direction of William Head. Mr. Moonen described the monster as having a long neck, with a small head similar to that of a camel, huge body, light brown in color, and two humps protruding from its back. Mr. Moonen also said that it was a very fast swimmer.

Number of Jobless In Great Britain Takes Sharp Drop

LONDON, May 3 (AP).—Reflecting increased business both generally and through the rearmament programme, the number of unemployed in the United Kingdom has dropped sharply from a year ago, according to Labor Department figures issued tonight. The report stated unemployed in the United Kingdom at April 19, totaled 1,454,443, a drop of 376,787 compared with the same date in 1936.

WILL EXPAND FRIENDSHIP

No Formal Military Alliance Necessary for Italy and Germany

ROME, May 3 (AP).—Italy and Germany will continue to expand their friendship agreement, highly informed sources said tonight after conferences between Premier Mussolini and Baron von Neurath, German Foreign Minister, who arrived here today.

There will be no formal military alliance because, diplomatic circles said, no such written pact is necessary. It appeared more probable that Mussolini and Hitler might effect an oral understanding in future conversations—a projected meeting in Germany has been rumored for some time.

FORMULA SUFFICES

There is sufficient agreement for the present, Editor Virginio Gayda indicated in the usually authoritative Giornale d'Italia, in the formula: "Nothing in Europe without Italy and Germany. Nothing against Italy and Germany."

Von Neurath, Mussolini and his son-in-law, Foreign Minister Count Ciano, were said to be in accord on these points after today's talks: The League of Nations as presently constituted is useless in enforcing peace.

NO SEPARATE PACTS

Any new Locarno pact to assure security must follow the old one signed by Britain, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium.

There must be no separate pacts; There will be no negotiations until the Spanish civil war is ended. Austria must be discouraged from Continuing on Page 12, Column 6

TO MAINTAIN RELIEF RATES

Lower Federal Grant Will Be Absorbed by B.C. Treasury, It Is Stated

While not yet officially advised of the cut in Federal relief grants by $50,000 a month to British Columbia for April, May and June, the Provincial Government expects this course to be adopted, but will maintain relief rates unchanged "for the time being," Hon. G. S. Pearson said yesterday.

Ottawa dispatches on Sunday told of impending reduction of the Federal grant to British Columbia from $300,000 to $150,000 monthly for the period specified. British Columbia relief lists totaled 82,000 persons, including dependents in March, the last month reported, but will be less to a considerable extent for the next few months, it is believed.

"For the time being we will keep our relief rates the same," Mr. Pearson said.

NANAIMO, May 3.—Nanaimo may have another new bridge in the near future if recommendations of the properties committee of the city council meet with general endorsement, the city council tonight in session having endorsed the recommendation that either the Millstream Bridge be reinforced at a cost of $2,500 or a new bridge be erected.

A delegation will interview the Provincial Government to ascertain what financial assistance would be forthcoming should a new structure be built.

RUSHING CORPS TO FIGHT FIRE

Flames Along Three-Mile Front Endanger Valuable Albertan Timber

BRETON, Alta., May 3 (AP).—All available men in this fire-swept district were rushed tonight to a blaze licking its way northwest on a three-mile front toward valuable timber lands about ten miles west of Breton.

Only fire still out of control in the Breton area, about fifty miles southwest of Edmonton, it had caused little damage so far, but extensive loss would result if the blaze, fanned by a brisk southeast wind, spread into the timber.

All day the flames have licked through bush country, and at some points it has reached the timber. Most serious fire during the day, an out-break between Antross and Fraspur, about four miles south of here, was controlled before it reached 5,000,000 feet of logs, 4,000,000 feet of lumber, a sawmill and two planing mills.

Strike in Screen Industry Spreads

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 3 (AP).—The strike of film industry craftsmen and laborers spread today, but its effect on production activities could not be determined definitely.

Whatever handicaps were felt picture-making proceeded. Noted film players continued to pass through picket lines into the studios, awaiting final decision of the powerful Screen Actors' Guild as to whether its 3,000 members will join the strike by formal walkout or by declining to go through the picket lines.

Government Determined to Proceed With Evacuation of Citizens From Besieged Bilbao—Captain of Freighter Reports Battleship Sunk By Floating Mine; Not by Aerial Bomb

First Refugee Contingent Landed at French Port

LONDON, May 3 (CP-Havas).—The British Government is determined to proceed with naval evacuation of civilians besieged in Bilbao despite opposition of Insurgent Commander-in-Chief Francisco Franco, Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons tonight.

Meanwhile, the captain of the British freighter Knutsley informed the Admiralty that a floating mine, not Spanish Government bombing planes, sent the insurgent battleship Espana to the bottom of the Bay of Biscay last Friday.

BOMBERS ON WIDE FRONT

Over Sixty Loyalist Planes Worry Insurgents—Phalanx Leaders Jailed

MADRID, May 3 (AP).—Sixty-three Government planes today bombed insurgent positions in the Northern Guadajara sector, where insurgents were beaten back in March, along a front fifty miles northward from Madrid. Today's bombers dropped almost 600 bombs and started fire in the Sigüenza railway station, Guadajara communications centre. Insurgent troops were targets of Government bombers at Castellan de Henares, Almadrones and Almadrones, all about sixty miles northeast of Madrid.

IN MADRID SECTOR

Fighting broke out again in the immediate Madrid sector. The 3,800 insurgents held at University City in a siege within the siege of Madrid attempted vainly to establish relations with their comrades at Casa de Campo, but artillery and trench mortars drove them back. Insurgent artillery shelled Madrid again. Reports from Bilbao said the insurgent drive on the north had been effectively halted.

LEADERS JAILED

HENDAYE, France, May 3 (CP-Havas).—Generalissimo Francisco Franco was reported tonight to have jailed more than 200 leaders of the Fascist Spanish Phalanx in a move to establish complete military dictatorship over insurgent-held Spain.

Franco was seen by Fascist spokesmen as convinced that the Phalanx was too revolutionary. They declared that he aspired to create, following unification of all right-wing forces, something similar to the "patriotic union" set up by the late General Primo de Rivera during his dictatorship.

THREE TRAPPERS FROZEN TO DEATH

Bodies Discovered at Different Points in Isolated Section of Northern Quebec

QUEBEC, May 3 (AP).—Reports from the isolated settlement of Seven Islands, on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River Gulf, brought word tonight of discovery of the frozen bodies of three trappers at different spots in the interior of heavily-wooded Northern Quebec.

The three men were all residents of Seven Islands. Two of the trappers died in a lonely cabin only twenty-five miles apart in a district about four times that distance north of the little village where their homes were. The third man died just a few feet from the shack from which he hunted near Lac Gras, about 250 miles north of his home.

CHARGES RUSSIAN PLOT

He charged that plans for evacuation by sea were the result of a "Russian plot" to permit destruction of property in the Bilbao zone. The House applauded when Eden, after outlining the counter-proposal, said the Government, nevertheless, intended to provide protection for the women, children and old people of Bilbao as arranged in the evacuation plan.

The National Joint Committee for Spanish Relief announced that preparations are being made to shelter in England 4,000 children from Bilbao and the adults accompanying them. Many will be sent to vacation camps. A large number of offers of hospitality for the Spanish refugees in British homes has been received by the committee.

PROTECTED BY BRITAIN

Officials sources said vessels evacuating civilians from Bilbao will carry hospital ship flags and will be protected on the high seas by British

LOWERS RECORD BY BIG MARGIN

Broadbent Cuts Over Full Day From Australia to England Flight

LONDON, May 3 (AP).—The air record from Australia to England was lowered more than a full day today.

Tired and taciturn, but happy, H. L. Broadbent, Australian distance flyer, landed at Lympne Airport today, just six days, ten hours and fifty-five minutes after he left Australia.

The mark he broke was established in 1935 by H. L. Brook, British airman now engaged in trying to set a new mark between Capetown and London. Brook's old mark was seven days, nineteen hours, fifty minutes.

DECLINES STATEMENT

At Hanworth, Broadbent said the flight was "uneventful." The most anxious time, he said, "was near Rangoon, when I ran into storms that preceded a monsoon, but I got through that safely."

While the fastest time from Australia to England, Broadbent's feat is far short of the record for the other direction.

In the London to Melbourne air race of October, 1934, G. W. A. Scott and Campbell Black, British aviators, covered the distance in seventy hours, fifty-nine minutes. Broadbent left Darwin, Northern Australia, at 7:45 a.m. British Summer time, last Tuesday. He flew by way of Java, Singapore, Burma, Karachi, India, Iraq and Rome.

GIVE PRIZES FOR PLAY AND NOVEL

Announcement Made of Pulitzer Awards at Annual Banquet in New York

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—The St. Louis Post Dispatch, the novel "Gone With the Wind," and the play, "You Can't Take It With You," received Pulitzer awards for excellence in American journalism and letters tonight.

The committee, announcing the awards at its annual banquet tonight, said the "distinguished and meritorious public service" for which the Post Dispatch was honored was the exposure of wholesale registration frauds in St. Louis.

"Gone With the Wind" is Margaret Mitchell's Civil War novel, which has set a record as a best seller and soon will be made into a moving picture.

"You Can't Take It With You" is a comedy written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, and now is playing on Broadway.

Recommendations for Civil List Reported By House Committee

King George's Annual Grant to Be £410,000 With Separate Allowances for His Daughters—Increase Duke of Gloucester's Income

LONDON, May 3 (U.P.).—A civil list providing King George VI with a grant of £410,000 (about $2,025,000) annually during his reign was recommended today by a select committee of the House of Commons.

The proposed civil list, considered practically certain of adoption by the House, is in the same amount as that voted his brother, former King Edward VIII, but totals some $90,000 less than that of his father, King George V.

FOR PRINCESS ELIZABETH
In addition to the grant for His Majesty's privy purse and expenses, the report called for a separate annual allowance of £5,000 ($25,000) for eleven-year-old Princess Elizabeth, the heir presumptive.

Other recommendations were that the annual grant to the Duke of Gloucester be increased £10,000 to £35,000 in view of the additional duties he has been obliged to assume during the Princess' minority, and that Queen Mary's annuity of £70,000 be continued.

FINDS DEATH ACCIDENTAL

Coroner's Jury Finds Louis Paul Burbridge Killed By Mishap

A verdict of "accidental death" was reached by the coroner's jury which yesterday investigated the death of Louis Paul Burbridge, who was found in a dying condition at the corner of Fort and Vancouver Streets late last Wednesday night.

Thomas McLay, who is under arrest charged in the city police court with manslaughter in connection with the fatality, was present at the inquest in company with his counsel, Stuart Henderson.

Dr. E. C. Hart, the coroner, asked Mr. Henderson, in view of the fact that McLay was charged in the police court, if he desired to place him on the witness stand to testify at the inquest. Mr. Henderson said that he objected to his client going onto the stand, and accordingly he was excused.

EXCLUDED EVIDENCE
In charging the jury, Dr. Hart pointed out that a manslaughter verdict would be justified only in case the jury came to the conclusion that there had been gross carelessness on the part of the driver of the truck that was brought into the case. He added, however, that he did not think that the jury would be justified in being influenced by the testimony that was offered that the driver had violated two city ordinances.

The jury was composed of Ernest Cairns (foreman), Ivan Temple, Harold O'Neil, David T. Cook, Thomas Milburn and George Robins.

BRIDGING A THOUSAND YEARS in Thirty!

CANADA PROFITS FROM USE OF CANADIAN NICKEL IN MANCHURIA

IN THREE DECADES Manchuria has been transformed from a region of feudal lords, bandits and nomad herdsmen into a prosperous agricultural and commercial land. Great streamlined locomotives glide into newly-built cities. Steam shovels are moving mountains. Fleets of tractors till the fields. One of the greatest bridges in all Asia spans the Yalu River.

Modern industrial methods have come to Manchuria and along with industry comes Canadian Nickel. Nickel steel for the boiler plate in these modern locomotives to give greater strength with reduced weight. Nickel steel in the bridges, steam shovels, tractors and other industrial equipment. Nickel to resist wear, breakage and corrosion. Nickel from Canadian mines.

For ever with the march of civilization and industry go International Nickel's engineers, pointing out the advantages of Nickel in the production of better materials. And behind the engineering staff, stands the great Nickel research organization, ready to develop special Nickel alloys to overcome new obstacles. The Nickel ore in Canadian mines creates income for Canada only when mined, refined, and sold. Then—and then only—does new wealth come back to Canada to speed prosperity throughout the land.

CANADIAN NICKEL FOLLOWS WORLD INDUSTRY

THE SILVERY, SANITARY Monel SINK

This fine product of International Nickel's research department deserves a place in every home. Monel is positively rust-proof. It stoutly resists the corrosive attacks of food juices which play havoc with most materials. It does not chip or crack. And because of the natural resiliency of the metal, it lessens dish breakage and clutter. See the beautiful Monel sinks with their greater working space, their distinctive design and their silvery lustre. Ask your architect or plumber, or write for literature.

Increased Attention To Social Services Is Urged by Canon Cody

President of Toronto University, in Addressing Victoria Canadian Club and Alumni, Speaks of Closer Bond Between People of Canada

"THE physical sciences have come to stay, but the social sciences have not had the care to which they are entitled," Rev. Canon Henry J. Cody, D.D., president of the University of Toronto, told members of the Victoria Canadian Club and the local Toronto University Graduates' Society at dinner in the Empress Hotel last evening. Canon Cody spoke on "Universities and the Part They Play in Binding Canada, East and West."

"Man has not yet learned to control self," he continued, "and thus we must bring social science abreast of our knowledge of physical science."

"Mind you, I do not think we should throw over the social framework of our civilization, upon which we have achieved so much. But we must modify and change the social problems which confront our Municipal, Provincial and Federal Governments. Our universities, with larger staffs, must grapple with that which is before us. I propose to do what I can to bring this state of affairs to pass," Canon Cody declared.

"If on the material side, Canada is to hold its own, we must pay more attention to agriculture, and to commerce, to industry, production and distribution."

CULTURE AND SERVICE

"Yet at all times, we must take cognizance of that which lies behind the material things. The two great watchwords of our universities must be 'culture' and 'service,' which culture must lead—'service.' The University of Toronto has a motto: 'May the University grow like a tree as the years go by,' and

Gain Is Shown In First Four Months' Arrears Received

AN increase of $10,039.49 was shown in collection of arrears taxes for the first four months of the year in figures compiled yesterday for Mayor Andrew McLaughlin by George A. Okell, city assessor and collector. During the first four months of 1936, the sum of $65,260.49 was received, compared with $75,299.98 this year.

A decrease of $6,345.70 was noted in collection of prepaid taxes, figures for the first four months of the year being $487,290.22, compared with $493,635.92 for the same period of 1936.

that should be true of all universities. They should grow up, out, and down, rooted with conviction. "And so will they serve the fair land of Canada, in which they are established, and the whole world of sadly perplexed men and women."

Canon Cody urged his listeners to place themselves in the position of the other man, and to endeavor to understand the viewpoint of the sister provinces. He spoke of the meetings between members of the faculties of universities throughout Canada, and the manner in which they made for a closer bond. "Let me assure you," he said, "Canada needs to be bound together, for there are many moves afoot to split the Dominion. We are all Britishers, and as Britishers, we must do our best to overcome all obstacles to a united Canada." In that task, he suggested, the universities seeking to fuse old truths with new, should play a prominent part.

CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES

Describing briefly the genesis of the leading colleges in Europe and the United States, Canon Cody spoke of early universities in Canada—Laval, a product of the culture of the French, the three King's colleges at New York, Windsor, N.S., in New Brunswick, and what is now Toronto. A third group arose including Dalhousie, McGill and Queen's, while a fourth group, mainly denominational, embraced such well-known institutions as St. Francis Xavier, Acadia, Mt. Allison and McMaster.

Under the principles of federation, suggested by Sir William Mulock, and first adopted by the University of Toronto, universities were organized into faculties with affiliated colleges, each maintaining its own jurisdiction and variety. This departure was the basis, said the speaker, of the four great state universities of the West—Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and British Columbia.

"These institutions have played a great part in the dissemination of knowledge, and in discovering the material resources of the provinces in which they are situated," declared the Canon.

Turning again to the university of which he is president, he traced its growth from 1827, when it had a staff of seven, and an enrolment of 163 undergraduates, to today, when it has a staff of 875, a total enrolment of 8,000, and fifty-seven buildings.

MUNIFICENT GIFT

Concluding, he described the great observatory, munificent gift of Mrs. David Dunlop, the great Royal Ontario Museum with its great archaeological exhibit, the fine work of the Connaught Laboratories, a branch of which is now established in connection with the University of British Columbia, of the discoveries of Banting and Best in medicine—especially that of the prolongation of the efficacy of insulin.

Canon Cody was introduced by Colonel H. T. Goodland, president of the Canadian Club, and warmly thanked by Judge P. S. Lampman.

AGED RESIDENT DIES IN SLEEP

Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Who Came Here in 1877, Was Venerated Citizen

For sixty years a resident in the city, where she leaves a fragrant and venerated memory, Mrs. Amelia Jane Pendray, widow of William J. Pendray, passed away in her sleep early yesterday morning at her home, 309 Belleville Street.

Born eighty-seven years ago at St. Just, Cornwall, England, Mrs. Pendray left the Old Land on April 22, 1877, for Canada, sailing from Liverpool, and traveling via New York and the overland route to San Francisco, where she again took sailing vessel for Esquimalt. The trip took a month and two days, their ship docking at Esquimalt on May 23. Engaged before she left England, she was met by her fiancé, W. J. Pendray, on arrival here, and married the day after her arrival, the wedding taking place at the home of W. J. Jeffrey, one of the pioneer businessmen of the city, whose home at the time was on Fort Street. The officiating minister was Rev. A. E. Russ.

LANDMARK OF CITY

The young couple took up residence in a house which stood about where the Crystal Garden stands today. Years later they moved from there into the house they had built on Belleville Street, which continued to be the family headquarters and Mrs. Pendray's own home down to the present time, one of the landmarks of the city, which, both on account of its occupancy and because of the ornately-trimmed shrubs and trees, is familiar to thousands of visitors as well as residents.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Pendray were devout church-goers and generous supporters of benevolent and philanthropic undertakings. Associating herself with the Metropolitan Methodist Church at the time of its organization, Mrs. Pendray remained a consistent and loyal adherent of this church right up to the time of her passing, and was rarely absent from services or special congregational or women's group meetings. Her associates warmly reciprocated her interest, and on innumerable occasions, particularly in recent years, had given favorable testimony to their love and appreciation in the form of birthday and other anniversary congratulations.

TOOK LONG TRIP

The serenity of a well-ordered and deeply-religious nature gave her a singularly happy old age, surrounded by loving friends. Within comparatively recent years she made a round-the-world trip, which she greatly enjoyed.

Her husband, who predeceased her many years ago, came to Victoria in 1873, two years before their marriage, and established the paint and soap business which was the foundation of the family fortunes.

Surviving are two sons, J. Carl Pendray, former Mayor of Victoria, and Herbert J. Pendray, of Ravenswood, Esquimalt Lagoon, now on the way (via Africa) to England, to attend the Coronation celebrations. There are also three surviving brothers, Edwin Boyens, in England; Nicholas Boyens, living in Kansas; and Dick Boyens, living here; and one sister, Mary, in England.

The funeral will take place Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Metropolitan United Church, Rev. E. P. Church officiating. The funeral arrangements are in the hands of Sands Mortuary, Limited.

Her Knees Swelled With Rheumatism

To Go Upstairs Was Agony

There is nothing in which rheumatism is a greater handicap than in doing ordinary household duties—kneeling, stooping, running up and down stairs. How to overcome that handicap, and relieve rheumatic aches and pains, is the subject of the following letter:—
"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for three months. When I started, I had rheumatism in both knees. They were very swollen. I could not rise from a chair without assistance. I could not kneel, and to go upstairs was agony. Now I can run upstairs and kneel as much as I like. Since I have taken Kruschen, I can work like a horse."

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are effective solvents of uric acid. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the internal organs, and assist them to expel the dissolved uric acid from the system. (Advt.)

RETRENCHMENT AND ECONOMY

The Pattullo Government, in conducting its election campaign, carefully refrains from discussing the one issue which ought to occupy the attention of every voter in the Province at the moment, namely, the crying need for retrenchment and economy in Provincial affairs. The Premier and his Cabinet have apparently entered into a conspiracy of silence upon this matter. They know that it is not to their interest as politicians that the electors should be made aware of the conditions which have made any remission of taxation so difficult. They have, therefore, decided to avoid the subject, and, if possible, occupy the minds of the public with pretty stories about other and far less important matters.

The elector, listening with as much patience as he can muster to Cabinet Ministers delivering political addresses which hold out no prospect whatever of retrenchment, but which in plain terms threaten him with heavier taxation to support further rash expenditure, can hardly fail to ask for the reason for this silence upon fundamental issues. He will ask why the Cabinet does not undertake to reduce the number of constituencies in the Province; why does it not reduce the number of Departments; why does it not reduce the cost of our very expensive Civil Service; why, above all, does the Premier permit his colleagues to spend so much money in their several departments?

The practical politician of the type represented by Mr. Pattullo knows that these are searching questions, and that any scheme for the reduction of the cost of government would require an immense deal of courage to carry through. It would be opposed by Members of the Legislature afraid of losing their seats; by Cabinet Ministers afraid of losing their portfolios, and by civil servants afraid of losing their jobs. Moreover, it would be strenuously opposed by the voices, and particularly by the votes, of the wives of office holders, their sisters, their cousins, and their aunts, and their male relatives as well.

The practical politician, priding himself upon his practicality, thinks that this answer will silence the elector. He is mistaken, however. He has merely admitted by implication that we are largely governed by a bureaucracy which, instead of functioning as a true civil service, has become an uncivil tyrant. This tyranny of office-holders and office-seekers must be overthrown. This newspaper has already pointed out that the first step towards reform is to divorce the Civil Service from politics and patronage.

THIS FREEDOM

Mr. Stanley Baldwin is under no delusion as to what is the mission of Great Britain in a political and economic sense. In announcing his forthcoming retirement from politics he lays stress on the fact that the party he represents is as full of ideas of progress today as any other party that exists, but it has always stood, in Disraeli's words, "for the maintenance of the Constitution." These words, Mr. Baldwin says, have a far wider application today than they did in the time of Disraeli. In the latter days there were no attempts to bring about sudden constitutional changes of a fundamental nature. Now there are the ideas of Communism and the ideas of differing forms of Fascism. In neither of these forms of ideas can Mr. Baldwin see anything that may be done to help Great Britain. They are exotic to the country; they are alien. "You cannot," he says, "graft them on to our system any more than you can graft a Siberian crab on to an oak." The advice that Mr. Baldwin has to offer is this:

"Help the evolution of our Constitution as much as you like. It may well be that the things that suited our grandparents, possibly things that suited us, may not suit you or your children, but the whole virtue of our people, if we have any political virtue, has been the way in which we have through the ages adapted ourselves, and adapted the instruments which we use to give effect to our wishes. And we have adapted ourselves without bloodshed and without hatred among ourselves. Far, far the most important thing that we can do is to keep this country at least—the only one, after all that we have any control over, which people often forget—secure from the strange creeds that today are rushing round the world. I do believe, as I have often said to you, that the influence of our country is very great in the world and in Europe. We cannot keep that influence unless we can make people believe that we can manage our own affairs as decent people. Let us continue to try to do that, and use our influence as far as we can for that freedom in which we ourselves believe and which we try to practise, and without which we do not believe that life itself would be worth living."

MULTIPLICITY OF PARTIES

Eighteen candidates, at the least, in this constituency is the prospect in the Provincial election of June 1. The electors will have five different trends of political thought on which to pass judgment. The result may well prove a neutralization of what is the majority viewpoint, if there is such a thing. It has been said that whatever party secures power will do so by virtue of a minority vote of the electors of the Province. That, too, is what will apply in this constituency. The winning candidates will not have a majority over all their opponents. The Province is to prolong its era of minority rule.

The idea of a multiplicity of political parties seeking power is nothing new; all that is new is that this condition is becoming intensified. The people evidently want this condition, though it does not make for good government, and especially in an arena where the main preoccupation is such development of natural resources as will make for healthier economic conditions. The remedy for dealing with a multiplicity of candidates is in the hands of the people themselves. They have to develop the spirit of co-operation and realize that development in this Province is one of hard, practical facts, so far as government is concerned, and by that is meant provincial government. There may be a variety of viewpoints as to what a government can do to encourage prosperity, and it is prosperity which most people seem to want. Prosperity, however, so far as it may be devised in a local way, is a method of co-operation all round and a measure of substantial majority support for legislative thought.

Some of the candidates in the coming election will receive hardly more than a sprinkling of votes. It is quite possible that some scores of them will lose their deposits. That, of course, is their own business. They will just have succeeded in wasting their own time and the time of the people in listening to them. It is a well-established custom for certain persons to engage in causes which are foredoomed to failure. Sometimes it is a case of political ambitions and the thirst for the emoluments of office. Sometimes it is a genuine obsession for a theory of government. The experience of the past, however, has proved that the most successful form of government is found in those countries which have the fewest parties. That has been the experience in Great Britain. It would be better for British Columbia if it were the experience here.

RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

The Winnipeg Tribune says that experience of the past six years has "amply demonstrated that municipal councils are not the proper bodies to administer unemployment relief." It infers that it is too big a job for them to handle, and, moreover, that "the closeness of the relationship between the members of municipal relief committees and the recipients of relief, all of whom have votes in municipal elections," makes it undesirable. The personal element enters into the administration, and The Tribune claims this is reflected "in the number of names on the relief rolls."

What The Tribune has in view is the elimination of racketeering in relief, and this, it says, will never be possible until the administration is taken out of the hands of local relief officials and placed in the hands of an administration which is far enough removed to take an impersonal view. There is a good deal to be said for the contention that this country has been "muddling along" in its relief administration. Too large sums have been spent on overhead. There has been undoubted wastage which accounts for relief continuing to cost so much at a time when it is claimed that the number of recipients of relief is declining. There certainly should be an authority in charge in a matter of this character, so that relief will not be described as a racket in any quarters. More especially is it desirable now to cut down the cost of overhead when the Dominion Government has reduced its grants in aid of the unemployed.

The sound of heart beats has been transmitted from London to the United States, and by an amateur wireless enthusiast. This has been done by the means of the phonograph, which can reproduce the sound, and it has been demonstrated as a first step in medical consultation by radio. The instrument which amplifies heart sounds has been produced after months of research conducted by Dr. C. Vaughan Henriques in a laboratory of the Medical School of King's College Hospital.

A CORONATION PRAYER

You stand upon the highway of the sea,
Wherein the ships, your children, come and go
In splendor, at the full of every flow,
Bound to and from whatever ports may be.
Through this beginning reign, for years to come,
May fortune set your lot in happy times:
Your seamen sail still marking with their chimes
Daily, some ship of yours, returning home.
Though you are changed from what I once beheld:
Though your remembered hulls are with the coral;
I can not think upon your might unstrid.
O sacred city of the lost sea-bird
May wealth, out-ransoming the ports of old,
Be yours, with spiritual gold and holy laurel.

—John Masefield.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Should it ever fall to my lot to instruct a visitor from Mars in the peculiar ways of this curious planet, Earth, I know that often would I be hard put to it to explain just how we manage things. I should warn the Martian, who doubtless would be a gentle soul much slandered by our preceptions, to beware of the proud and arrogant as of the plague. I would feel it my duty, further, to warn the visitor against the "meek and humble," particularly those with a damp-fish handshake and restless eyes. I should have to tell him to steer clear of those odorous people who put bear grease on their hair, only to take it off with a pocket comb on the public street. I should—what is the use. In short, the visitor from Mars would learn that only he and I were truly sensible fellows, and that I had grave suspicions about anyone who left the planet Mars for the planet Earth, particularly between May 11 and June 1 this year. On the other hand again, were it possible for me to go to the planet Mars on a return visit with a Martian guide, I suspect that he would be vastly embarrassed to account for the way in which Martians live, if Martians do live. He could, never doubt it, warn me against the proud and arrogant, the "meek and humble," and those who made three parts of their toilet in public without the assistance of soap and water. He might, believe it well, even suspect that of all his Martian world only he and I were sensible fellows, and that even I was at least eccentric to leave the planet Earth for the planet Mars when trout were rising to a fly in the Cowichan River. Moreover, as against that charge I would have not a single, valid defence!

Dogs always interest me. Usually a dog is busy about his master's business, spending long hours minding the house, escorting children on the highway, rescuing toddlers from pitching off a pier and drowning themselves in the ocean—in between placed—naps with a large brown eye cocked open under shaggy brows. Recently, however, I saw two dogs with a purpose; two dogs that side by side trotted along a Douglas Street sidewalk in the middle of the day, turned west at Port Street to tread the traffic squares with military precision, and to disappear from sight at Terry's corner, still in step and headed on some mission of obvious importance. One a setter and the other a retriever, the dogs were unaccompanied by human companions. It may, of course, have been a pup's convention. It may have been a meeting of the Four-Footed Pals Club, where the dues are one bone, not too newly discovered; the greetings, a wag of a stump or brushy tail; and the password: "Death on cats."

Whatever the cause, those two dogs had a mission, and they trotted off to perform it with a complete oblivion of all else on a busy crowded street. Only the lack of four legs kept me from trotting after them, because I dislike an unsolved puzzle. In Victoria, moreover, a dog's life seems a particularly fortunate one. Our dogs are educated, even as to traffic signals.

Out of the street car window just now I saw a boy with a model airplane. It was one of those little balsawood models, such as anyone can buy for a few cents. The boy was completely absorbed in throwing the model up into the air, where it lopped, barrel-rolled, did vertical banks, and performed the most marvelous evolutions. No two flights were alike. Goggle-eyed, the boy took it all in, and learned more about aviation than all the textbooks in the world could teach him. We will not need to teach youth how to fly—youth one day will be able to teach.

There are only a few lines left for mention of the Victoria Musical Festival. I watched a Victoria High School choir take a blue ribbon prize in a keenly close contest. I saw another Victoria High School group accept defeat, when I fully thought they had won, and accept it with unquestioning sportsmanship. That to my mind was worth a red, white and blue ribbon. Beyond all, I saw a very large audience with an obvious love of good music; an audience which two decades from now will have a comfortable hobby, as bright and unspooled as it is today. Cheers for the musical festival, for the adjudicators, for the participants—and for the listeners. It was well done.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 4, 1887)

Public Committee Meeting—A meeting of the Public Committee was held in the City Hall last evening. A large number of citizens being present. His Worship Mayor Fell took the chair, and asked how many days would be set apart for the celebration. It was moved and seconded that there be June 21 and 22 being named. A committee was chosen to wait upon Admiral Sir Michael Culme-Seymour, Bart., to ascertain his views upon the celebration, and what assistance he might be disposed to render the committee in making their arrangements.

From Southern Ports—The steamer Marathon, bound for Seattle, arrived at her wharf yesterday morning a few minutes before 11 o'clock. The North-bound steamer Marathon was a few tons of freight. When the steamer left, the weather was decidedly disagreeable, strong winds prevailing. Samuel Booth, and George Kennedy were on the point of going into the interior, the former to Lorne Creek, and the latter to Omineca. The new steamer George Willard, which was built at Georgetown, is on her way to this port in tow of the steamer Adel Tidings, to receive her engines.

Condensed Dispatches—The Parliament members of Parliament drafted a fresh amendment to the Crimes Bill on Monday. It is official that Germany has no intention of proclaiming a state of siege in Alsace-Lorraine.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES' WAGES

Sir—The matter of tax reduction has been much featured in the local press of late. As has also that of wage restoration to civic employees, but so far largely from the point of view of the City Council—and the Ratepayers' Association. The civic employees now seek the opportunity of placing their side of the case before the public by means of this letter.

The 1½-mill reduction in the mill rate struck this year will save the taxpayers of the city $54,000. In addition to this the reduction in assessment means a further saving of $66,000. As a 5 per cent restoration of salary cuts for the seven months of 1937, from May 1, would require a sum of $18,000, it is evident that one-third of this saving to the taxpayer, or ½-mill, will actually come out of the pockets of the civic employees.

Now, as we feel that our interests and those of the ratepayers are not antagonistic, as a large percentage of civic employees are also homeowners, let us find out what this tax reduction actually amounts to. The average homeowner pays approximately $90 a year in taxes, so the 1½-mill reduction in this year's rate will result in a saving to him of from $4 to $5. Let us see how far this reduction relieves the employee who is a taxpayer.

As a result of two cuts of 10 per cent and 5 per cent, and in spite of a restoration of 3 per cent, the employee who was receiving $1,500 a year in 1931 now receives only $1,321. It follows, therefore, that this employee is still contributing $180 a year to the city as his share of the civic economy programme. If this employee is an average taxpayer as well, the reduction in the mill rate may save him as much as $5 this year and his taxes will be about $85. Add to this his salary contribution of $180, and he is actually paying the city $260 this year, a sum more than three times the amount of the tax paid by the average homeowner. In other words, the City Council, in striking a rate of 43½ instead of 44 mills, gives a reduction of approximately $1 a year to the average homeowner, while the average employee is being penalized to the extent of $180 a year.

At the time of the wage cuts, the lowered cost of living was stressed as an argument in favor of this drastic move. The present rapidly rising cost of living should now be an equally strong argument in favor of immediate restoration of those wage cuts.

It is an undeniable fact that cuts in wages and failures to replace employees of who have left the civic service, whose duties were delegated to other members of the staff, have lowered the annual civic payroll, exclusive of school board and relief offices, by the sum of $180,445.10, or 5 mills in the year 1936 as compared with the 1931 payroll. Would it not seem that the civic employee has done his bit during the depression and that his case merits favorable consideration at this time?

The time used is Pacific standard for 1200 Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish the tides. Low, 0.00; high, 100.00. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Equimart drydock, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

Addressing his clergy recently, the Bishop of Worcester expressed the hope that joint services would be held with the Free Churches in connection with the Coronation. He said: "If the church cannot properly give the answer to the 'Recall to Religion' without calling forth the enthusiasm and co-operation of the laity, it is equally true that without the fervor and devotion of the Free Churches, our Church cannot cover the ground."

Realistic Compliment

Do the members of the Vancouver Island Rock and Alpine Garden Society know of the very real compliment which was paid to their most artistic display at the Spring Garden Show Saturday afternoon?—A small grey and black bird flew from branch to branch in the trees behind the exhibit and then hopped and pecked among the various rock plants and shrubs around the pond. The little fellow was quite at home, and quite oblivious of the people who stopped to watch him.—Could a more realistic compliment have been paid to this display and its members?—R.F.G.

Game Comes First

With Saturday, May 8, as the final date for filing entries for the Connaught Cup, rumors are already rolling over the local soccer front. We have been informed that certain clubs are going to enter the series on their own, and that if this is the case other clubs will follow. For the sake of the game, and in our opinion, this is what should come first, we think it would be futile for any one club to enter the Connaught Cup series and expect to get far. Victoria has a number of good players, and their efforts collectively may be the means of the capital city of British Columbia making a creditable showing in the Dominion football series. One club from this city, and the only one, is all that the fans, the ones who pay the piper, would ask for, but they certainly would like to see the best material in the town playing on the club.—S.T.

The New Champions

University of British Columbia basketball squad, recently crowned Canadian men's senior champions for the next twelve months, completed the British Columbia, Western Canada and the Dominion series with a brilliant record of victories behind. They lost only one game in eleven, and that was to Windsor Fords in the third round of the final play-off. The students started the fireworks by eliminating the Victoria Dominions in three straight in the provincial final, and then ousted the Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta champions, in two straight without much trouble. Then came the champions, Windsor Fords, and they went in a four-game series, one of the closest ever played on the Coast. Previous to

BISHOP WILL PREACH HERE

United Service of Praise to Be Held in Cathedral on Thursday, May 6

Rev. George Barne, D.D., Bishop of Lahore, will arrive in Victoria shortly, and be the preacher at a united service of praise, and thanksgiving to be held in Christ Church Cathedral at 8 p.m. on Ascension Day, May 6.

Dr. Barne has undertaken a series of preaching and speaking engagements, including meetings at Quamichan, Duncan and Victoria, and extending across the Dominion to Montreal.

The Festival of the Ascension was marked by a service in St. John's Church last year that taxed the seating capacity. This year there will be a similar observance at the Cathedral, in which the Bishop of Columbia will take part, together with the clergy, choir and people of the rural deanery, and to which the general public is invited.

FESTIVAL EVENSONG

The hymn "Hail the Day That Sees Him Rise" will be sung as the procession of bishops, clergy and choir enters the cathedral. Later there will be the service of Festival Evensong, in the course of which there will be sung the Twenty-Fourth Psalm, "The Earth Is the Lord's," Smart's "Magnificat" and Pelton's "Nunc Dimittis," together with the hymns "The Head That Once Was Crowned With Thorns," "Jesus Shall Reign," "Come Ye Faithful, Raise the Anthem," and "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," the latter to "Miles Lane."

"Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken" (Australia) will be the recessional, as the procession makes its way to the vestries by way of the south ambulatory.

The public is asked to bring hymn books.

PIPE BAND MAY MAKE TRIP SOUTH

Detachment From Canadian Scottish Expected to Represent City At San Francisco

According to present plans under formation, Victoria will be represented at the San Francisco Fiesta this month by a pipe band from the Canadian Scottish Regiment. Selection of a band to go South will probably be made by the regimental commander between the 1st Battalion Band under Pipe Major Wallace and the 2nd Battalion Band under Pipe Major Donald Cameron.

Through representations to Hon. John Hart, the Provincial Government has agreed to donate $250 to start a fund towards defraying the expenses of the trip.

The Scottish were invited to the fiesta by a representative who visited Victoria a few weeks ago. The band chosen will be the guest of the fiesta committee while in San Francisco.

Charles Groth Dies in Nanaimo

NANAIMO, May 3.—Death claimed a real old-timer of British Columbia today in the person of Charles Groth, aged eighty-two, native of Denmark, who landed in Victoria on the German bark Steier in 1875. He resided in Victoria for a short time, and also on Saturna, Mayne and Pender Islands, before moving to Vancouver, where he conducted a grocery store on Thurlow Street for a number of years. He had resided in Nanaimo two years.

He is survived by four sons, Frederick Groth, Nanaimo, with whom he made his home; Jack, in Ontario; William, in Seattle, and Charles, in Victoria.

The remains rest at Chapman's Funeral Home, Newcastle Townsite, and will be forwarded to Vancouver for cremation and the ashes scattered at sea.

What Today Means

TUESDAY, MAY 4
"TAURUS"

If May 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 to 9 a.m., from 5 to 7 p.m., and from 9 to 11 p.m.

It will be through ignoring good advice that most of this day's troubles will originate. Egotism is apt to be the stumbling block in the average person's path, so guard against its evil effects. To underestimate anyone's degree of intelligence, this day, will be a great mistake. Having an excess of confidence is sometimes as bad a fault as not having sufficient, and on this day it is important that you do not go to extremes in this respect. Hearing probably will be an important factor in many of this day's affairs, for poor hearing may cause misinterpretation of something said. It will be good judgment to make sure your voice carries clearly, especially when conversing over the telephone. It is advisable that moderation be used in any form of social activity where any lack of it might bring about embarrassing complications. Married and engaged couples, as well as those seriously in love, will find that offence will be quickly taken at any manner which borders on being dictatorial this day, so be diplomatic.

If a woman and May 4 is your birthday, you should be an unusually just person, having a sense of fairness that will help you greatly throughout your life. You ought to be gifted in the matter of handling money, and you probably will have a great deal of it at your disposal. You may trust comparative strangers too much, so use discretion in this regard, particularly if investments are involved. You possibly will have many admirers, and gain popularity through your social activities. You may show exceptional ability as an artist, teacher, sales lady, broker, writer or interior decorator. You ought to have the happy faculty of making your married life a very happy one.

The child born on May 4, can be expected, as a rule, to be exceptionally intelligent. By the time it reaches its teens, it may display a decided talent for some particular line of activity.

If a man and May 4 is your natal day, be careful a love for your work does not interfere with your domestic happiness. Remember money is by no means everything. As a contractor, engineer, broker, artist, actor, author, clergyman or salesman you should have a brilliant future.

Commentator Is Enthusiased With Local Gardens

Famed throughout the Northwest

air-lands for his able commentaries on gardens and gardening, Cecil Solly, Seattle, whose pleasant English voice is familiar to hundreds of listeners, was a visitor to Victoria during the week-end. Like many others, he was delighted with local gardens, and enthused with the English plants he found here.

A graduate of Cambridge, and a veteran of the Great War, Mr. Solly served on the western front for duration of hostilities with the Royal West Kent Regiment, being wounded four times in action.

He spoke briefly over C.P.C.T. Saturday, commenting on the gardens which he had visited earlier in the afternoon.

Accompanying Mr. Solly were a number of writers including Miss Gwladys Bowen, Portland Oregonian; Miss Jule Hobday, Portland Journal, and Mrs. Ethel Romig Fuller.

MAINLAND LOSES CRICKET VETERAN

Charles Illingworth, One of Founders of Mainland League, Called By Death

VANCOUVER, May 3 (P).—Charles Illingworth, fifty-eight, for many years a player on Vancouver cricket teams, died at his home here on Sunday. He has been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Illingworth came to Canada more than thirty years ago from his Yorkshire birthplace. He was manual training instructor at General Brock Public School here for some time.

He played for Vancouver Club and served as secretary to the organization. He was one of the founders and first secretary of the Mainland Cricket League.

DIVORCE DECREE MADE ABSOLUTE

Mrs. Wallis Simpson Free to Marry Again, Probably
After Coronation

LONDON, May 3 (P).—Wallis Warfield Simpson today won a decree of absolute divorce from the ship's broker who was her second husband, and thereby became free to marry the Duke of Windsor.

Just twenty-five seconds in London divorce court were required to end the six-months' probationary period, which began last October 27, when the American-born woman obtained a decree nisi from Ernest Simpson.

Mrs. Simpson's application was fifty-sixth on the list. Her attorney, Walter Frampton, sped to a president of the Arca Development Company, Limited.

at her chateau retreat in Monte, France.

CHANGES HIS PLANS

Word went at once to the Duke of Windsor in Austria, who dropped plans for a mountain-climbing trip and sped by train for France after a telephone call to Mrs. Simpson. The two are free to marry whenever they choose, but a spokesman for Mrs. Simpson said the wedding would wait until after the Coronation of King George VI, brother-successor to the Duke.

Friends indicated that the wedding might be at a British consular office in France or at a French town hall, but final plans awaited the Duke's arrival at Tours tomorrow.

DEEP PRODUCTION TESTS ABANDONED

CALGARY, May 3 (P).—Deep production tests at the Arca well in the South Turner Valley field, may be abandoned, it was announced today by H. R. Milner, K.C., of Edmonton, president of the Arca Development Company, Limited.

An inflow of sulphur water, struck in the limestone at 8,988 feet, has shown the deep production tests unsuccessful in the search for oil, he said. It was expected the drilling crew would pull back to the Dalhousie sands, at the 8,600-foot level, and continue the tests there.

Girls' Camps Are Planned

In order to meet the holiday requirements of Victoria senior girls, the Girls' Committee of the Victoria Y.W.C.A. is planning to extend its Summer programme to include two Summer camps. A beautiful campsite on Galiano Island has been chosen by the Vancouver association and is to be shared by the Victoria Y.W.C.A. This camp presents to girls wishing to get away from familiar scenes, possibilities of a delightful holiday.

The campsite comprises about sixty acres of wooded land, playing field, tennis courts and a lovely sandy beach. The swimming is ideal and the camp in its entirety presents a great opportunity for high school girls during July and senior girls during August. These time periods are not rigid, and on inquiry at the Victoria Y.W.C.A. more definite information and camp folders may be obtained. Miss Margaret Ryan, the Victoria club secretary and physical director, will be on the camp staff during August.

GLENN LAKE CAMP
"Camp Sylvan Glen," the Victoria Y.W.C.A. camp, will give a lovely July holiday or "just the week-end jaunt you want" to senior girls. It is situated on the east end of picturesque Glenn Lake, amid several acres of woodland. There is accommodation for sleeping in or out, and the comfortable cottage with a large living-room and open fireplace should appeal to many girls wanting a restful and happy holiday. There is a wide veranda and every opportunity in the grounds for basking in the sun, rambles or a shady spot to read. The whole informal programme is to give girls a complete change from the busy routine of city life.

The rates of the camp are low and the proximity to the city eliminates any transportation difficulties. Week-

A Favorite Recipe

CHINESE CHEWS—Beat well two eggs, add gradually one cup of powdered sugar, add three tablespoons of melted butter, half a cup of chopped dates, half a cup of chopped sultanas, a quarter of a cup of candied cherries, a quarter of a cup of green candied pineapple, a quarter of a cup of nut meats, four tablespoons of chopped crystallized ginger, three-quarters of a cup of sifted flour, one teaspoon of baking powder and three-quarters of a teaspoon of salt. Bake in a greased and floured tin at 350 degrees for fifty to sixty minutes. Cut in squares while still warm, roll into balls, coat with powdered sugar and leave to cool.—By Mrs. C. T. Nothing is more flattering to slim young figures than the "waistline" dainty dress.

You'll find many occasions to wear this alluring dress, because it is so simply styled.

Dainty-dressing accents the pretty little square neck of the basque bodice. The tiny sleeves "puff up" so cunningly. The shirred hipline releases the skirt in soft gathered fullness.

It's captivating in sheer plain or Lulicor striped marquisette and wearable right through the Summer.

After you've finished this dance dress of peasant inspiration, make a street length dirndl of rayon challis-print or in dark ground dotted swiss as navy and yellow.

You can have them both at a very moderate price. The pattern includes a Sewing Guide that shows every step of the way. It enables even a beginner to cut and stitch it in a jiffy.

Style No. 3199 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19 years. Size 15 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 3/4 yards of ribbon for ankle-length dress.

The Spring and Summer Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

Due to special arrangements made with the manufacturers, The Colonist is glad to announce a reduction in the price of its patterns from 20c to 15c. This price will be effective for all patterns ordered from this date.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

DEPENDS ON HARBOR ICE

Trans-Atlantic Air Service
May Be Started During
Week of Coronation

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 3 (AP).—Regular trans-Atlantic airplane passenger and mail service between Europe and North America may be started during the Coronation week.

Tiny Botwood, a hamlet of 400 persons, 150 miles northwest of St. John's, will be the North American landing point. Start of the service within the next week depends on whether the ice is out of Botwood harbor by that time.

British Imperial and Pan-American Airways are to make the experimental flights under arrangements reached by the United States Department of Commerce with Canada, Ireland and Great Britain.

With both New York and London as terminals, the ships will stop off in Ireland and at Botwood. Between Newfoundland and New York, two routes have been arranged, one via Montreal, the other via Shediac, N.B.

In winter months, the northern route would be abandoned. A southern path across the Atlantic would be followed, planes touching Bermuda and the Azores.

A huge air base is under construction at Gander Lake, twelve miles from Botwood. Direction finding instruments and telegraph facilities have been installed at Botwood.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING
VANCOUVER, May 3 (AP).—Officials of Burrard Drydock Company, Ltd., announced that the Norwegian tanker Ms. Varanger, in drydock since March 13, will be refloated within a few days and will run her trials next Thursday.

The Varanger, voyaged 6,000 miles from Australia to be repaired here. Burrard Drydock obtained the repair contract because of satisfactory work on other ships of the Norwegian fleet.

One halibut boat arrived here over the week-end and sold 1,000 pounds of halibut at 65 cents, 10,000 medium at 75 cents, 1,000 large at 85 cents and 250 ling cod at 2 cents.

Deep Bay Cannery
North of Nanaimo
Damaged by Fire

NANAIMO, May 3.—The Deep Bay Cannery, forty miles north of Nanaimo, was badly damaged by fire Saturday night, according to Arthur Stevens, of the Five Acre Lots, who saw the conflagration on his way home from a trip Up-Island.

Mr. Stevens stated that the flames started in the reduction plant, and, fanned by a high wind, quickly spread to the saltery, which appeared to be doomed when he left the fire.

The cannery, a hamlet of 400 persons, 150 miles northwest of St. John's, will be the North American landing point. Start of the service within the next week depends on whether the ice is out of Botwood harbor by that time.

British Imperial and Pan-American Airways are to make the experimental flights under arrangements reached by the United States Department of Commerce with Canada, Ireland and Great Britain.

With both New York and London as terminals, the ships will stop off in Ireland and at Botwood. Between Newfoundland and New York, two routes have been arranged, one via Montreal, the other via Shediac, N.B.

In winter months, the northern route would be abandoned. A southern path across the Atlantic would be followed, planes touching Bermuda and the Azores.

A huge air base is under construction at Gander Lake, twelve miles from Botwood. Direction finding instruments and telegraph facilities have been installed at Botwood.

Destroyer Fraser Proved Good Seaboat

Running into bad weather on the first leg of her run from Chatham to Esquimalt, H.M.C.S. Fraser proved her seaworthiness, according to officers who made the trip from the Old Country aboard her. The Fraser docked at the naval port early yesterday. On her way from England she called at the Azores, Barbados, Panama, Acapulco and San Diego. She will go to New Westminster for the Coronation celebrations there May 12.

The capital of Vizcaya is the home port of the St. Abadi Menul, and its chief officer, Epifanio de Aldamiz, claims to be particularly perturbed as to the situation, owing to his relatives who live there at the present time, as Chief Franco has publicly stated in Spain that the Basques must be destroyed, and from past actions it is surmised he means that all must be eliminated.

The officer states that the Basques are incidentally related to the British Picts, and do not present the usual appearance of the average Southern European, being also taller than the average Spaniard, and they have fair complexions. They are noted as the best sailors in Spain. The men all wear berets, and the custom, put into practice in Nanaimo Saturday night, created considerable curiosity.

He expressed the opinion that the so-called rebels in Spain, would not be successful, as he said, regardless of the suffering that the opposite side has to endure, they will face it as long as there is a man left. He claims it is not a civil war, as very few Spaniards are fighting with the rebels. "We in Spain," he said, "think the war was caused because Hitler wants Northwestern Spain for its minerals and Mussolini wants the Balearic Islands for a naval base. Already the Germans have mounted heavy guns across from Gibraltar," he declared. He felt confident that Franco and his desperadoes would not pierce the three-ring defence of Bilbao.

According to a statement issued by the Cinema Christian Council of England, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury is president, there has been a marked increase in the use of the film for religious work during recent months.

The first Anglican sisterhood in modern times was founded in 1845 at St. Pancras, England, by Dr. Pusey. For the group of laymen who financed the venture, including Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Mansfield, it was an attempt to relieve the misery and ignorance in great towns, after the model of the sisters of charity on the Continent. This sisterhood lapsed after a time.

SPANISH SHIP TOOK ON COAL
Abodi Menul From Bilbao At Nanaimo—Manned By Basques

NANAIMO, May 2.—The Spanish St. Abadi Menul of Bilbao, Spain, took on coal at the local wharf and proceeded to Nanaimo to take on lumber before continuing on its voyage to England. The ship is crewed and officered by Basques, who incidentally belong to the part of Spain where intense fighting is in progress at the present time.

SURVEY SHIP
STEWART IN

F. H. Peters, Surveyor-General, Back After Trip Around Island

Returning to Victoria after a round of Coast waters with F. H. Peters, Surveyor-General and Chief of the Canadian Hydrographic Survey, aboard the survey ship William J. Stewart arrived alongside her berth in the Inner Harbor on Saturday.

H. D. Pariseau, chief of the survey on the Pacific Coast, stated yesterday that during the two weeks the ship had been away from Victoria very little fine weather was experienced. The survey of Cowichan Bay in the neighborhood of the Canadian National lumber assembly wharf had been completed in three days. The party that had been left at Nanaimo completed the preliminary work for a charting of that harbor, the real survey to be carried out at the end of August. Another camp party which had been left at Lasquiti Island, doing preliminary work for a thorough survey of the Gulf of Georgia, which will be carried on this Fall, also completed its task.

ROCKS ARE LOCATED
On the way to Rivers Inlet, while the camp parties were making ready for the future surveys of Nanaimo Harbor and the Gulf of Georgia, the survey ship engaged in sweeping for reported hazards. Three rocks were located, one in the middle of Scott Cove, with eight feet of water over it; another mid-channel, Greenway Sound, with two feet of water, the chart showing forty fathoms, and the third one off O'Brien Bay, with nine feet of water.

From O'Brien Bay the ship proceeded to the north end of Vancouver Island, but the weather being unfavorable for survey work of any kind, the Stewart went on to Rivers Inlet with the houseboat Penner's party. A week ago yesterday, the ship was at Bull Harbor, where one ship station was laid. From there the Stewart went to Quatsino and thence down the west coast of the Island, where a number of ship soundings were made. Entering Barkley Sound the survey ship passed through the Broken group of islands to the Bamfield Creek Cable Station.

PASSED VICTORIA
Coming up the Strait, the Stewart passed Victoria on Wednesday evening last and went to the Fraser River. From there she proceeded to Port Mellon, Howe Sound, and then to Lasquiti Island, where the camp party was picked up, and on Friday went to Nanaimo and took aboard the second party.

Way again this evening, the Stewart will go Up-Island for coal, and while bunkering, the surveys will put in a day's work observing in connection with the Fall survey of the Gulf. From there the ship will carry on the survey between Bull Harbor and Cape Scott. When that section is finished, work will be resumed in the area between Cape Crook and Cape Scott.

Two Gifted Musicians In Recital
Victoria's musical audience will be afforded the pleasure of hearing a delightful evening of "cello and piano music tonight at the Oak Bay Theatre Hall.

Mary Bucklin Hammond, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. George A. Bucklin, formerly of Victoria, is well-known as a cellist. Last season she studied intensively in London and Brussels under the guidance of the celebrated cellist, Robert Maas. Since returning to Victoria, Mary Hammond has made only one public appearance, on the occasion of the first programme of the Musical Arts Society in October.

Una Calvert's name is a familiar one in musical circles here and in Vancouver, as she appeared many times in chamber music and with her sister, Joy Calvert. She studied in New York with Josef Lhevinne for several years and with Chernavsky in Vancouver. She and Mary Hammond have worked together during the past winter and the programme to be given this evening should be one of great interest.

Musical Arts Close Season Wednesday
As a fitting ending to the 1936-37 season, the Victoria Musical Arts Society is giving a musicale and tea, Wednesday, at "Arran," York Place, which has been kindly placed at the disposal of the society by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fletcher.

A programme has been prepared for the entertainment of the members and guests and among those taking part will be several leading competitors in last week's Musical Festival. The winner of the senior piano championship, Phyllis Muriel Hick, who gave much pleasure through her neat execution and good musicianship, will play several solos. Another soloist will be Miss Norah Jones, who competed successfully in no less than three classes in the festival.

Others contributing to the programme will be Mrs. Alison Peebles, the popular president of the society, and the Elizabethan Singers, who last week received a complimentary adjudication from Dr. Staton.

I.O.D.E. Activities
Douglas Chapter
The monthly meeting of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter will be held at the home of the regent, Mrs. A. S. Christie, 1296 Richardson Street, on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Nightingale Chapter
The monthly meeting of the Florence Nightingale Chapter was held on Monday afternoon at headquarters. Mrs. James Baker, the regent, presided, and gave a comprehensive report on the provincial meeting held recently in Vancouver. Mrs. G. Lillie, convener for the book shower, reported that 200 volumes had been received. The chapter went on good thanking all those who had donated books and thus made the affair a success. A sum of money was furnished by the chapter to members of the Girl Guides for uniforms, who were not able financially to provide them for themselves. The chapter will hold a Coronation bridge luncheon at the Jubilee Hospital Nurses' Home on Wednesday, May 26. Mesdames H. Catterall and H. Lenfesty will act as convener for the luncheon, and Mesdames Frank Bayless and George Mellor will manage the bridge. Mrs. W. F. Warner and Mrs. W. H. Brown were accepted as new members. At the termination of the business meeting the regent served tea, the table being artistically decorated with a large bowl of pink tulips, lavender stocks and maidenhair fern, the gift of Mrs. W. H. Brown.

DETROIT STRENGTHENS HOLD ON FIRST POSITION

Victoria Golfers Capture Hunting Cup From Visitors

Mrs. B. R. Philbrick Leads Local Shotmakers to 8½ to 3½ Victory Over Vancouver in Inter-City Match at Oak Bay Links—British Columbia Championship Opens Today

Mrs. Philbrick

Paced by Mrs. B. R. Philbrick, who has been campaigning on British Columbia courses for a long time, now, a representative Victoria golf squad captured the Hunting Cup from a formidable Vancouver team yesterday afternoon at the Oak Bay Links by an 8½ to 3½ score in the annual inter-city match.

The Mainland club, which has been defending cupholders, but the best they could do against the local shotmakers was to gain two victories and have three other matches. A strong wind, blowing in from the ocean, had the visitors baffled and they found it difficult at times to control their shots.

Mrs. Philbrick, conquering the wind in spectacular fashion and playing just about the best golf of the day, came through with a surprise victory over Miss Kay Farrell, who is here to defend her provincial crown in the British Columbia tournament, which gets under way today with the qualifying round carded over eighteen holes.

Mrs. Philbrick was out in 42 to establish a comfortable lead and then outplayed the champion on the way home to end the match at the fifteenth green, 4 and 3.

CLOSE MATCHES

This surprising triumph was followed by a great decision by Mrs. Art Dowell over Miss Katie Duff, Stuart, second Vancouver player, Peggy Hodgson appeared to have another win for Victoria, but slipped badly, and her opponent, Miss Evans, squared the match on the last green after being three down and three to go. Mrs. Macfarlane was in the same boat as Miss Hodgson. She was down three on Mrs. Irvine, but the Mainlander rallied strongly and squared the match on the final green. Miss Lillian Boyd and Mrs. Frost scored Vancouver's two victories. The former defeated Mrs. Miss Benson. Miss Evans, Mrs. Eve and Mrs. Frost triumphed over Irvine and Mrs. Baker all gained halves with their opponents.

Today the field of more than fifty golfers will start the tournament proper with a strong contingent of Victoria females going after the crown adorning the brow of Kay Farrell. Several other strong Vancouverites are entered and will make it interesting for any of the field. Victoria will have their best shooting for the championship, including Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, Dorothy Fletcher and Mrs. E. Jackson, a trio of Uplands Club members who are capable of gaining the honors. Oak Bay and Colwood Clubs also have their strongest lined up for the tournament.

HOW THEY SCORED

Scores follow, with Vancouver players first named:

Miss K. Farrell 0, Mrs. Philbrick 1, Miss Duff Stuart 0, Mrs. Dowell 1, Miss Evans ½, Miss Hodgson ½, Mrs. Traill 0, Mrs. Paterson 1, Mrs. Wade 0, Mrs. Bennett 1, Mrs. Irvine ½, Mrs. Macfarlane ½, Miss Boyd 1, Mrs. Eve 0, Mrs. Macdonald 0, Mrs. Mackenzie 1.

Feller Hurts Arm in Season's Debut

Making his 1937 major league debut in Cleveland by striking out eleven St. Louis Browns in six innings on the mound, eighteen-year-old Bob Feller, of the Cleveland Indians, was removed from the game because of a torn muscle in his pitching arm, and Cleveland lost the ball game by a score of 4 to 3. Feller is pictured in action during the game, and three of his victims are shown swinging, top to bottom, Hemaley, Walkup and Knickerbocker. Feller injured his arm in the first inning.

GREENBERG'S HOMER WITH BASES FULL IS FEATURE OF VICTORY

Tigers' First Baseman Crashes Out Circuit Blow To Aid Team in 12-9 Victory Over Chicago White Sox—Boston Bees Turn Back Giants, 3-1—Phillies Trim Brooklyn Dodgers

AMERICAN LEAGUE

DETROIT, May 3 (P.)—A home run by Hank Greenberg, with the bases full, set off an attack that enabled the Tigers to defeat Chicago White Sox 12-9 today, strengthening their hold on first place in the American Baseball League.

The Tigers were trailing by four runs when Greenberg walloped the ball over the scoreboard in the third inning, scoring White and Cochrane, who had singled, and Gehring, who had walked. It was the second homer of the year for Hank, who was out of action nearly all of last season with a broken wrist.

Pitching was ineffective on both sides. The Tigers got nineteen hits off four Chicago hurlers, while the Sox belted McLaughlin and Hatter for sixteen.

The defeat dropped the New Yorkers a game and a half behind the idle first-place Pirates.

In the fourth inning the Bees massed four of their six hits for all of their runs.

Wild encounter

BROOKLYN, N.Y., May 3 (P.)—Scoring six runs in the last two innings, after the Dodgers had rallied and tied the score in the sixth, the Phillies gained a 14-8 upper hand in a wild and woolly National League baseball game today.

The Phils collected twenty-one hits off five Brooklyn pitchers, while the Dodgers made ten from the offerings of four visiting hurlers. In the final analysis, it was decided that Orville Jorgens was the winning pitcher and Lefty Ralph Birkof the loser.

Herschel Martin and Rookie Morris Arnovich delivered four hits apiece to lead the Philadelphia bombing squad. Martin also helped out by making three difficult running catches in centre field.

There were seven errors, four by the Dodgers.

MEAT MARKET XI DEFEATS SAANICH

Chalks Up 4-3 Victory in Saanich Football League Fixture—Plays Islanders in Final

Defeating the Saanich Native Sons, 4-3, Sunday afternoon at Hampton Road Park, Victoria Meat Market marched into the final of the second half of the Saanich and District Football League race.

Next Sunday, at Hampton Road Park, Victoria Meat Market will oppose James Island to decide the second half winners. The Islanders won the initial half honors and will be crowned champions if they defeat the butcher boys. However, if the Victoria Meat Market eleven takes the fixture they will become second half title-holders and will meet the Islanders for the league laurels.

Weakness in front of the net caused the downfall of the Saanich Native Sons in Sunday's match. They had the better of the play, but failed badly at critical stages.

GENT NETS TWO

Two goals by Doug Gent and one by Neil McCaig enabled the Victoria Meat Market to enjoy a 3-1 lead at the breather. Albert Henry tallied for the losers.

Saanich allied their opponents' lead to one goal when Eddie Sheppard scored. Neil McCaig discounted this marker soon after, and then Albert Henry, Saanich forward, ended the scoring.

Playing in a postponed league fixture at Bullen Park, James Island swamped the Busy Bee Cafe, 6-1. Joe Obee refereed.

Boxla Officials Discuss Lacrosse With Parks Board

Victoria may take up box lacrosse in a big way as the result of a City Council parks committee meeting, presided over by Alderman James Adam. W. G. Mowbray, K.C., Everett Taylor, Thomas Robinson, Councillor John V. Johnson and several other former lacrosse players attended the meeting and urged Alderman Adam to do all in his power to establish boxla here.

Next week the committee will inspect Central Park, Heywood Avenue grounds at Beacon Hill Park, and property on the Cook Street side of Royal Athletic Park to see if it would be possible to erect boxes there.

Plans of the Provincial Government call for expenditure of $10,000 on Vancouver Island parks, and the committee expects that at least $1,500 will be spent here. If funds are available, erection of the boxes for boxla will proceed in the near future, Alderman Adam stated.

QUOTING RESULTS

Victoria Quotting Club staged another of its popular singles handicap events Saturday afternoon at the club grounds. In the first round, J. McMillan, Sr., defeated T. Alexander, 21-18, and D. McCaig won from J. McMillan, Jr., 21-12. T. Scouler nosed out B. Watt, 21-20, and in the semi, McCaig eliminated Scouler, 21-18, and then lost to J. McMillan, Sr., in the final, 21-19. A meeting will be held Friday evening at the Foresters Hall at 7:30.

VICTORIA SIDE WINS FRIENDLY

The winners will now meet either St. Saviours or Kerrisdale in the final, venue of which is yet to be decided.

SCHWENGERS IS MEDALIST

Veteran Golfer Heads Qualifying Field at Colwood Club With 75

Bernie Schwengers, veteran of many a golfing war and ranked as one of Canada's leading athletes thirty years ago, stroked his way to qualifying round honors in the Colwood Golf Club championship on Sunday when he posted a steady 75, three strokes in front of the runner-up. Schwengers was right down the middle all day, and it was his steadiness that brought him through. Ted Colgate finished second with a card of 78 and Dave Randall, a former titleholder, was third with a 79. Cec Brown, the defending champion, did not face the starter, which leaves the title scramble a wide open affair.

Len Woodhouse topped "B" class qualifiers with a score of 88, while Art Dowell was next with an 89. Dr. C. J. Coultas and Ben Hall

VICTORIA WINS COLONIST CUP

Defeats Mount View High School, 2-1—Roy Okell Nets Winning Tally

Symbolic of the high schools' football championship of Greater Victoria, the handsome Colonist Cup passed on to Victoria High School yesterday after reposing in the Mount View silver cabinet for the past twelve months.

The Fernwood Road boys made possession of the silverware certain yesterday afternoon, when they eked out a 2-1 victory at the Royal Athletic Park. Roy Okell's tally fifteen minutes after the squads changed ends decided the fixture.

Victoria High School opened the scoring twelve minutes after the start of the game, and the Saanich boys knotted the count just before the breather.

In the final session Roy Okell netted the deciding tally when his free kick from just outside the penalty area sagged the rigging. Mount View pressed for the remainder of the game, but could not net the equalizer.

Edgar Borde refereed.

Yet Another Degree Given Commissioner

LONDON (BUP).—Vincent Massey, the Canadian High Commissioner to London, and elder brother of Raymond Massey, the actor, has just received the honorary degree of LL.D. of Aberdeen University.

Mr. Massey, who is a Balliol man and a former Lecturer in Modern History, has already achieved one record for Canadian High Commissioners to Great Britain. In his travels he has covered a wider area of Britain than any of his predecessors.

Canadians are now wondering if he has established another record. The LL.D. which he has just received was his twelfth. He is also a LL.D. of the Universities of Kentucky, Princeton, Toronto, California, New York, Columbia, Yale, Michigan, Dalhousie, McGill and McMaster.

This imposing list is certainly a record for a Canadian. It is believed, however, that it is beaten by General Smuts, who holds twenty-one honorary degrees of universities in Great Britain, the United States, Canada and South Africa.

ARRIVE AT BARRITZ

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, France, May 3 (AP).—The wife and children of the Basque President, Antonio Aguirre, arrived today at Biarritz, France, after a flight from Bilbao, besieged capital of their country. Senora Aguirre and her children joined families of other Basque leaders who had preceded them into France.

To St. Jean de Luz the British destroyer Faulknor brought the first refugee contingent, arriving from Bilbao with twelve passengers, including the British consul and vice-consul. A little later came the French dispatch ship Somme, carrying seventy-two French and Belgian refugees.

A few thousand women and children will be brought to France. Three requisitioned French steamers are leaving Bordeaux for Bilbao on Tuesday night, but they can carry only 2,000.

The insurgent army, meanwhile, prepared for a final dash down the Durango highway to the Basque capital.

However, a Basque officer asserted a second column of Franco's army had encountered trouble and was falling back in the Bermeo sector along the Biscayan coast.

The officer said scores of Italians in the insurgent column at Bermeo were trapped and leaped into the sea to escape by swimming two miles to the eastern bank of the Guernica inlet.

CORONATION MENU IS SAME ALL OVER

LONDON (BUP).—All the cooks and stewards and other officials concerned with the Canadian Pacific Railway will know shortly just what their passengers will eat on Coronation Day. The food will not all come from London, but the menus will.

A C.P.R. official has designed a menu card which has been produced in London, and innumerable copies have been prepared for distribution. On Coronation Day these menus will be on the tables of every ship and train and hotel of the system.

So that every point of every land and sea where the C.P.R. operates may be reached in time, the supplies of menus were dispatched from London on March 19.

CONVENTION NAMES OUTSTANDING MEN

lumbia, and especially those of this city," Dr. Hunter said.

REGIME CRITICIZED

Nominated by Lindsey Crease, K.C., Bruce A. McKelvie declared the present administration had attempted a form of Fascism through passage of the Special Powers Act; imported highly paid theorists who had experimented with the happiness of the people; and had used public funds and the crest of the Province in partisan advertisements, while neglecting the interests of the municipalities. Vancouver Island, he said, had been flouted, and its drive for a fairer deal in governmental affairs ridiculed by an administration that now sought reelection on the promise of annexation of the Yukon and a military road to Alaska.

Mr. McKelvie announced that he had severed his connections with The Colonist under circumstances that he was mutually agreeable and that he was pleased to be able to devote his whole time towards achieving the defeat of the Pattullo government.

Nominated by W. H. M. Haldane, Frederick A. Willis pointed to the wasteful cost of government in the Province, and said that throughout Canada six men were working to keep one public servant employed. He pledged himself to a square deal for Vancouver Island, with due regard for the legitimate interests of the Province as a whole. The Conservative party stood for the maintenance of all that was best in British traditions, and what it did promise, it would perform, Mr. Willis concluded.

SOUND GOVERNMENT

"The Conservative party is not offering something for nothing. It is not offering work and wages; but we say we can restore sound government, so that taxpayers will be unbundled, and industry freed to work out our opportunities and put British Columbia people back to work," R. A. Wootton, provincial president, declared, to cheers.

Senator R. F. Green, Senator G. H. Barnard, W. C. Moresby, K.C., and other nominees, Leslie F. Osborne, Mrs. M. R. Bowden, Lindsey Crease, K.C., and Chairman R. D. Harvey spoke during the course of a three-hour meeting. Open nominations were received from the floor of the assembly, under direction of Gordon A. Cameron, returning officer, assisted by ward chairman as scrutineers.

By 11:30 p.m. the convention was over, after the most spirited rally in Conservative ranks held in this city for several years.

tion to the question of "work and wages."
"In 1933," he said, "the Liberal slogan was work and wages."
"You know what followed. How much 'work and wages' have the electors of Slokan had since the Pattullo Government has taken office? I don't have to ask that question. You know how many fine citizens of this riding have been forced to go on relief.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION

"But I don't think Mr. Pattullo is going to fool you again. My advice to you is to take the work while it is going and vote as your common sense dictates. Vote for a Conservative party which proposes as one of its first acts after it is returned to power to appoint a highway commission. This commission with but little delay will make a survey of the situation and start a policy of highway construction that will lay permanent roads all through the province. This commission, divorced from partisan influence, will year by year, build roads along a programme designed by engineers, who will want to serve the best interests of the whole province.

"Under the old system of road building we have expended $75,000,000, perhaps more, on highway construction in British Columbia. And what have we received for our money? You know the answer. What do you do when you go on a motoring holiday? Cross the border into the United States, where state highway commissions have laid out good roads."

RED INDIAN Aviation Oil FOR MOTOR CARS
Two years of actual laboratory and road tests definitely prove that RED INDIAN AVIATION OIL's Triple Film Strength:
• Increases gasoline mileage by permitting the use of lighter grades of oils.
• Practically eliminates engine-wear due to oil-film failure.
• Reduces carbon deposits and oil consumption.
• Decreases starting wear because it clings to metal surfaces and provides adequate lubrication even when the engine is cold.
• Positively eliminates bearing wear and corrosion.
• Decreases harmful effects of road dust by forming a protective film around abrasive dust particles.
RED INDIAN AVIATION OIL is a Premium Oil—Yes. But remember that its astonishing protective qualities give value far in excess of the slight extra cost.

*WHAT IS CLARALLOY?

CLARALLOY is a super-refined chemical whose discovery marks the most advanced development in E.P. (Extreme Pressure) Lubricants. The three outstanding characteristics of CLARALLOY are:
(1) It triples the film-strength of the finest mineral oil.
(2) Makes it cling more closely to metal surfaces.
(3) Creates an increased "oiliness" which gives adequate lubrication under all operating conditions.

Each one of these additional qualities, which CLARALLOY gives to Red Indian Aviation Oil, is of vital importance to motorists because each one provides additional protection from engine-wear. CLARALLOY plus Red Indian pure, wax-free oil—Red Indian Aviation Oil, is of vital importance to motorists because each one provides additional protection from engine-wear. Security Prices Fairly Steady at New York Mart

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP).—Spring fever gripped the stock market today and most leaders shifted only slightly in either direction.

It was the slowest five-hour session since June 5, last year. Transfers of 638,390 shares compared with 1,449,700 Friday.

The list was moderately lively at the start, but trading forces resumed their sloth soon after and from then on the ticker tape moved at a snail's pace. It was motionless at frequent intervals.

Early gains or fractions to 2 points were subsequently pared or cancelled in many instances. At the finish 318 issues were up, 271 down and 166 unchanged.

United States Government loans were generally higher but corporation bonds fluctuated fractionally on the lightest bond market trading for a full day since last August 24.

Federal issues gained fair fractions, with the treasury 3's of 1951-55 up 11-32 at 102 14-32 at the finish. The foreign market was quiet, but tending higher, as Italian 7's, German 7's, Japanese 5 1/2's and Polish 7's added from fractions to around a point.

WHEAT FUTURES DIP TWO CENTS

WINNIPEG, May 3 (P).—Rains and prospects of further moisture in the United States winter wheat area brought an easier trend in world wheat markets today.

Wheat values dropped 2-3 to 17-8 cents on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange following weakness in Chicago and lack of continental demand. In a full session May wheat closed at 130.3-4, July 128.1-2 to 128.5-8 and October 117.3-4 to 117.7-8.

The beneficial scattered showers in the United States fell in Nebraska and Kansas and proved insufficient to depress prices.

Liverpool reacted from 13-44 gains to close 1-44 higher to unchanged. Buenos Aires at noon was 1-8 cent higher to 3-8 cent lower.

Course grain operations were dull and flax futures were the only options to show much life. At the opening October flax touched the five-penny limit above the previous close. But finished with a gain of 11-4 cents.

INDUSTRIALS AT TORONTO STRONG

TORONTO, May 3 (P).—An early cheerful note in metals and industrials on Toronto market was dampened later by moderate selling at lower prices on golds. Western oils were weak all day and some leaders were hammered for wide losses.

According to Street reports the selling of Calgary and Edmonton Oil to the extent of 117,000 shares at a final drop of 1 1/2 to 2 3/4 was due to their Area well gushing water after five months' drilling. Other oils sold off in sympathy, losses of 15 to 30 cents appearing for Foothills, Southwest Petroleum, Home Oil, Okalta, Vulcan and Dalhousie, and losses of 5 to 12 for Highwood, East Crest, A.P. Consolidated, Calmont, Commonwealth, Mercury, Model and United. Royalty dropped 4-14 to 36-14.

BRITISH REGISTERED

1-18 to 21-7-8. Cockshutt Plov was higher and well gushing water after five months' drilling. Other oils sold off in sympathy, losses of 15 to 30 cents appearing for Foothills, Southwest Petroleum, Home Oil, Okalta, Vulcan and Dalhousie, and losses of 5 to 12 for Highwood, East Crest, A.P. Consolidated, Calmont, Commonwealth, Mercury, Model and United. Royalty dropped 4-14 to 36-14.

DROPS TEE SHOT AT GORGE LINKS

Charlie Jordan realized a golfer's ambition Sunday at the Gorge Vale Golf Club when he dropped his tee shot at the 220-yard sixteenth hole while playing in a foursome with Leo Derman, B. Brotherton and Mike Ott. Jordan has been playing the Royal and Ancient game only six months. Secretary Jim Smart announced yesterday that the big event of the year will be held next Sunday when the president's team faces the vice-presidents'. Already sixty have entered. Members wishing to play are asked to get their names in early this week. A supper will be held in the evening.

Jane Dixon Says:

NOT EVEN FOR THE SAKE OF HER CHILDREN SHOULD A WOMAN BE PERSUADED TO LIVE IN THE INTIMACY OF MARRIAGE WITH A MAN WHO IS REPELLENT TO HER

Dear Jane Dixon:

I am twenty-four; am divorced from my husband and have two lovely children, a boy, five, and a girl, three. Both are with me. Their father pays a small sum for their support, but I work to buy them the extras and to take care of myself.

I don't mind work, in fact, I like it. What a Godsend it was, when my trouble came and marriage went on the rocks, that I had taken a commercial course in high school, done well with it, and was able to get a job that helped me forget my misery.

A year ago I met a man who seemed to be interested in me from the moment we were introduced. I did not care for him at first—he is very reserved, serious, average in looks and in personality. At least that is what I thought on first acquaintance.

I discouraged his attentions in the beginning, but he persisted in a quiet, but firm way that was most flattering to my vanity. I found he held an important executive position in a large and established firm doing business in a nearby city. Although not what one might call a wealthy man, he has a nice income.

CHANGED FROM AVERAGE TO EXCELLENT

I accepted a few of his invitations and then discovered I was looking forward to these occasions, that they meant more to me than just another date with a friend. What had seemed to be coldness and a deliberate reserve was in fact, an inherent shyness of the man which melted away on closer association, so that he became the best of companions, genial, understanding, full of the joy of living.

From this new angle his whole appearance seemed to change. From average it became excellent, then desirable. It is hard to believe the man I love—yes, I love him now—is the same man who failed even to give me a mild thrill that day we first met.

He has asked me to marry him, Miss Dixon. He has promised to be a real father to my children, and I know he would keep that promise. I want to find our happiness together, but here's the rub—my parents are against it, bitterly opposed to it. They have no criticism of the man. In fact, they like and admire him. But they were largely responsible for my first marriage because they would allow no other young man except the one they chose to pay attention to me, and they chose the one I was forced to divorce. They still hope we will come together and forget the past. They talk as though this was certain to happen, but I know it never will, for the very thought of it is repellant to me now. They say it must be done for the children's sake.

What am I to do? I want to be a good mother to my children, but I feel I'm young enough to remake my own life, and surely I am entitled to find love and happiness as well as to give it—Mary T.

PARENTS SHOULD STOP MEDDLING

Comment: Having caused their daughter to have one painful experience, it is high time these parents ceased their meddling and gave the unfortunate victim of their wills a chance to make her own happiness.

Not even for the sake of her children should a woman be persuaded to live in the intimacy of marriage with a man who is repellant to her. The price of such a crime is shattered nerves, ill-health, an embittered mind, a leaden heart. No mother is required to crucify herself in order that her children may grow up under certain conditions, when another condition, which assures her happiness and is just as promising for her children, offers.

Mary T. should accept the marriage offer of the man she loves and in her new home strive to inspire the affection, the trust and happiness that will shape the character of her children and provide for them a priceless heritage.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Merry Breezes Try to Comfort Grandfather Frog

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

had started for the spring on the Old Mother West Wind had left Grandfather Frog in the Long Lane where Farmer Brown's boy had dropped him, they had hurried as fast as they could to try to find some of his friends to come help him. Not one of them had been successful. No one was at home and no one was in any of the places where they usually were to be found. The Merry Little Breezes looked and looked. Then one by one they sadly turned back to the Long Lane. They felt so badly that they just hated to go back where they had left Grandfather Frog.

When they got there they found Striped Chipmunk, who had cut the string with which Grandfather Frog's legs had been tied, and who now was scolding Farmer Brown's boy as fast as his tongue could go.

"Where is he?" cried the Merry Little Breezes excitedly.

Striped Chipmunk stopped scolding long enough to point to Farmer Brown's boy, who was hunting in the grass for some trace of Grandfather Frog. Then he began to scold again harder than ever.

"We don't mean him, you stupid; we can see him for ourselves! Where's Grandfather Frog?" cried the Merry Little Breezes, all speaking at once.

"I don't know," replied Striped Chipmunk, "and what's more, I don't care! He wouldn't take my advice and go back to the Smiling Pool, where he belongs, and now I don't care what becomes of him."

Now, this wasn't true, for Striped Chipmunk isn't that kind. It was mostly talk, and the Merry Little Breezes knew it. They knew that Striped Chipmunk really thinks a great deal of Grandfather Frog, just as they do. So they pretended not to notice what he said or how put out he seemed. After a while he too, them that he had set Grandfather Frog free, and that then he and friends began arriving at the dock early in the day to welcome home the returning mariners. Yesterday afternoon the ship was more or less deserted, general leave having been granted, giving nearly everyone the opportunity of getting ashore in Victoria once more.

Telling about the passage from Chatham to Esquimalt, officers of the destroyer stated that between England and the Azores the Fraser experienced rough weather, but from there to the Barbados, and from the West Indies port through the Panama Canal and up the Pacific Coast, the weather was fine. When it was a bit rough, though, the Fraser proved to be a good seaboat, all agreed. She called, in addition to the Azores and Barbados, at Panama, Acapulco, Mexico, and San Pedro, Cal., making stops of five days at each place.

RESERVES ABOARD

Transferring from the Skeena, on which they were putting in training service, several reserve officers and a number of ratings from Western Canada, who embarked here when the destroyer sailed for Halifax, returned here on the Fraser. They will leave shortly for their respective homes on the Prairies.

The Fraser carries the same armament as the Skeena, but is some seven feet longer and she has half a foot more beam. She was built in 1931, the same year as the Skeena was commissioned, and has a replacement of 1,375 tons. She does thirty-five knots, with a horsepower of 36,000.

Grandfather Frog brightened up. "That's so!" said he. "That's a good idea, and I'll try it." Then the Merry Little Breezes promised that one of them would keep watch and let him know when Farmer Brown's boy was coming, and all the others started off to have another hunt for someone to help Grandfather Frog out of this new trouble.
